Wednesday 18-October, 2017

Sailing Around the World

Imagine leaving behind your successful careers and all the comforts of home in a restored Chicago brownstone and dropping everything to buy a sailing yacht to encircle the globe in 3.5 years. The journey started off as an adventure to 'sail to see the world' and with some perseverance and good fortune, they eventually sailed around the globe visiting 42 countries, avoiding piracy in the Gulf of Aden and logging 38,650 miles along the way. By the way your only crew is your three young children that will require home-schooling. Please join Jane and Marc Adams as they give us their personal tale of adventure aboard 'Imagine' along with a few tips for those of you thinking about it. We will dine with this beautiful view of the wonderful lake where it all started for Marc & Jane.
